

Randy C. Landers, FDBIA, PMP

Randy Landers is Director of Business Development for Speed Fab-Crete in Fort Worth, TX, a 68 year old Design/Build construction and manufacturing firm. Randy is a Native Texan, married with two grown children and three awesome grandchildren. He graduated from the University of Texas at Arlington in 1977 with a BSc-Architecture. His career has spanned all phases of the construction and development process and he has been a proponent of Design/Build and other forms of “alternative delivery” for decades. He has managed construction projects all over the US and Mexico and specializes in pre-construction project management. Randy is particularly proud to say that he was in the first class to receive the Design Build Institute of America (DBIA) Designated Professional title and is a member of the first class of DBIA Fellows. He serves on the DBIA Southwest Region Board of Directors and is an instructor in the DBIA Professional Certification program and served as Co-Chair of the 2018 DBIA National Conference and Expo Planning Committee. Randy is also a Project Management Professional as certified by PMI, the Project Management Institute. In his spare time he plays golf, reads, and watches his grandkids’ sporting events.
