CHAMBER★

A photograph of the Texas State Capitol building in Austin, Texas, viewed from a distance through a tree-lined walkway. The building's iconic dome is the central focus, topped with the state's symbol, the Lone Star. An American flag and the Texas state flag are visible on poles in front of the building. The walkway is paved with large, light-colored tiles, and several people can be seen walking and sitting on the grass. The sky is blue with scattered white clouds.

88TH TEXAS LEGISLATIVE SESSION AGENDA

The FWC's State Legislative Agenda supports policies that promote and improve the overall vitality and prosperity of the Texas economy. The policy priorities articulated here are deliberately broad and intended to promote the voice, vision and interests of our diverse chamber members, their businesses, employees, and customers.

To achieve these policy outcomes, the FWC will affirmatively engage our state leaders to advocate the enactment of legislation aligning with these priorities while resisting proposals we believe directly harm our members, undermine our economic competitiveness, or damage Texas' reputation as a business-friendly state.

At all times, we will seek to impact the policy discussion in a respectful, open, and ethical manner.

QUALITY OF LIFE

- ★ Preserve individual companies' rights to manage their organizations and employees according to their unique needs.

LEVEL ONE PRIMARY BUSINESS ISSUES

Primary Business Issues with a direct connection to business and where it would typically be appropriate for the FWC to take a position, though it may not always choose to do so.

These issues are core to business' bottom line, such as taxes and regulations of major significance.

The FWC will often take positions on these issue in coordination with our members in an effort to amplify their importance and present a united front to lawmakers.

Due to the sheer volume of such issues, we will not take a position on every such issue. When an issue rises to a level of significance for our membership and there are not clearly conflicting positions within our membership, we will likely take a position. The priority placed on the issue will be determined largely by practical considerations.

LEVEL TWO ENABLING BUSINESS

Enabling Business Issues that create an environment for businesses to thrive and contribute to regional growth and opportunity.

These issues include public and higher education, workforce development, and transportation and infrastructure.

FWC members typically do not dedicate their internal resources to addressing these issues, rather they look to organizations like the FWC to build consensus and impact policy outcomes on their behalf. As such, this activity is a key value-add the FWC provides our members.

Positions are developed in consultation with our members through the Government Affairs Committee and other channels.

LEVEL THREE INDIRECT IMPACT

Social issues with Indirect Impact on business may resonate within the community but have little or no impact on business. While these issues attract considerable public attention and tend to generate strong partisan responses, they seldom have a clearly identifiable nexus to business or economic development.

In cases where a nexus to business is strongly established, the FWC must determine if it can truly impact to final outcome. Taking a position on such issues will be based on overwhelming consensus of the FWC Executive Board upon the recommendation of the Government Affairs Committee.
